

MRS. INA M. LOWRY.

You Can Feel Better at Once!

When everything seems an effort, when you feel tired most of the time, when you wake up every morning as tired as when you went to bed,—then there is something wrong.

Nature is protesting against some neglect or some abuse.

Nature protests more often against nerve neglect than any other cause.

Remember, your strength is not in your muscles—the muscles simply work when the Nerve Force tells them to.

Even your brain does not work by itself—the substance in your brain cells must have energy to do its work; this energy must be nerve force—the same great power-of-life that controls every organ of the body.

Every form of weakness, or sickness, or disease, comes from a lack of Nerve Force to keep the organs working properly.

When one speaks of "a good constitution," one simply means a strong, healthy nerve system.

When the nerve system is not strong and well-nourished, it follows inevitably that one is easily "over-worked"—easily run down—just as Mrs. Lowry describes.

"For several months my system had been run down and I felt all worn out, tired, did not feel able to get out of bed in the morning and felt just as tired when I got up as when I retired. Had no appetite and looked pale and sallow. A friend who had used Paine's Celery Compound a couple of years ago, and who recommended it very highly, induced me to try it. I felt better at once and at the end of six weeks I felt like a new woman. I shall say too much in its praise. I shall use it every Spring and Fall and feel sure it will cure me."—Mrs. Ina M. Lowry, 3109 Santa Fe Ave., Kansas City, Mo. (Worthy member of Eastern Star; Rec. Sec. of the Friendly Aid Society.)

Paine's Celery Compound is giving new Nerve Force to thousands every day by feeding and restoring the nerves to their full strength. It never fails to build up the run down system to full, tummy health.

Two days' treatment proves its marvelous power. You feel better at once.

Try Paine's Celery Compound to-day. Take just one dose when you go to face the hard part of the day's trials.

See how much better you feel.

See how much more easily the trials roll away.

Paine's Celery Compound feeds the nerves—restores them to their strength—gives them new power to send vitality and health to every part of your body, new courage to your heart, new animation to your brain.

Remember this—Paine's Celery Compound is the prescription of one of the most famous physicians this country has ever known, Prof. E. E. Phelps, of Dartmouth University.

All reputable druggists recommend and sell Paine's Celery Compound.

NEWS NOTES FROM THE KEARSARGE

ITEMS OF INTEREST REGARDING THE FORMER FLAGSHIP OF THE SQUADRON.

The Kearsarge arrived off the city late Saturday, after having been absent a week engaged in target practice in St. Joseph's bay. Although no records were broken, yet some excellent work was done by the 13-inch guns. Particularly commendable was six hits out of eight shots made by Seaman Dickover, with the 13-inch; four hits out of five shots on 8-inch gun by Seaman Taylor, and fifteen hits out of sixteen shots by Seamen Laskowitz and Evans on 5-inch guns.

All hands are glad to be back again in port and among friends. Three men were discharged Saturday with honorable discharges and left for their respective homes with the best wishes of their shipmates.

About a hundred men were ashore on Saturday night from this ship.

Seaman Beckenback has been detailed as an assistant at the Naval Y. M. C. A. during the stay of the fleet in Pensacola.

The Kearsarge has accepted an invitation to rather a challenge to play a game of ball with Ft. Barrancas in the near future.

The Missouri race boat tossed oars under our buoy last Sunday afternoon, and of course, we accepted.

Apparently the Kearsarge lost some admirers when she lost the "flag." Last Sunday hardly fifty persons visited the ship, while last year fully five hundred people were aboard on each Sunday.

We are recovering from a severe illness of "coalsky de shipovitch," and all hands are glad to be cleaned up again.

How "All Men Are Born Equal."

The woman born beautiful doesn't bother to educate her intelligence, is spoiled by flattery, is unable to hold the men she attracts. The woman born homely is driven to develop her character and her mind, and so more than overcomes her handicap as against her pretty sister. The man born clever loses because he wins too easily and has no incentive to that sustained effort which alone achieves success. The man born "slow" develops patience, assiduity, balance and, best of all, tenacity.

It comes near to being a universal rule that strong points and weak ones just about offset each other in any human being at the start and that the development is a matter for the man himself to determine. And there is no fatal handicap except the disposition to regard one's handicap as fatal.—Saturday Evening Post.

Word Corruption.

"I lately heard," says a writer in T. P.'s London Weekly, "of a country inn which boasted for its sign, 'The Jackass.' Word corruption like this has given many quaint signs to our hostleries. Among the better known inn signs are 'The Goat and the Compass,' corrupted from the words, 'God encircled us'; 'The Bull and Mouth,' from 'the Boulougne mouth,' after the naval combat before Boulougne harbor, and 'The Pig and Whistle,' from 'the peg and wassail,' alluding to the pegs driven into the old wassail bowl to mark the point to which the toper might drink as his turn comes round. The sign, common in Lancashire, of the Stanley arms, an eagle carrying a child, is popularly referred to as 'The Bird of Bantlin'."

Marrying on Account.

Rev. Mr. Williams was the Congregational minister in the village of Winslow, Me., several years ago. One evening, says a correspondent of the Boston Globe, four young people called at the parsonage. Two of them wished to be married.

The papers in the case were legal, so Mr. Williams performed the ceremony. The other couple acted as bridesmaid and best man. The groom was the son of a well known man in the town, and as the happy couple were leaving the parsonage the young man whispered to Mr. Williams:

"Just charge it to father, parson. It will be all right."

Sunday Card Playing Laws.

There was a time when people in England were forbidden by law to play at cards, even in their own houses, on Sunday. In the royal proclamation against vice, profane and immorality, read every session and assize, is the following passage: "And we do hereby strictly enjoin and prohibit all our loving subjects, of what degree or quality soever, from playing on the Lord's day at dice, cards or any other game whatsoever, either in public or private houses or other places whatsoever."

Enlarged Finger Joints.

Enlarged finger joints are the source of annoyance and mortification. Sometimes they are caused by pulling the fingers to make the joints "crack." Sometimes they are the result of hard work, rheumatism or gout. They may be relieved by light rotary massage (rubbing around and around and around on the joints with the thumb and fingers and stroking upward), accompanied by the application of oil of wintergreen.

Not Too Much of a Fool.

"Father says that Algernon hasn't any idea of the value of money," she exclaimed plaintively.

"Your father wrongs him," answered Miss Cayenne. "I have observed that Algernon never proposes to anybody except heiresses."

FORMAL OPENING OF ROWING CLUB

WILL TAKE PLACE MONDAY
EVENING WITH A LUNCHEON AND SMOKER.

The formal opening of the Pensacola Rowing Club will occur on Monday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, when with the firing of a cannon and the raising of the burgee the club will be in commission for the coming season. Immediately following this ceremony the members of the club will tender their guests a luncheon and smoker.

A committee composed of Dr. D'Alemberte, H. R. Smith and F. C. Brent, Jr., has been appointed to arrange all details for this important event.

"I have been subjected to sciatic rheumatism for years," says E. H. Waldron, of Wilton Junction, Iowa. "My joints were stiff and gave me much pain and discomfort. My joints would crack when I straightened up. I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and have been thoroughly cured. Have not a pain or ache from the old trouble for many months. It is certainly a most wonderful liniment." For sale by all druggists.

SMALL BOY WANTED PRETTY LIZARD

The scene was the piazza of Two Breakers and the time the popular noon hour. A small boy sat with his mother and some friends at one of the tables. The small boy was about half through a tall lemonade when he spied a green lizard climbing on the wall of the hotel. He demanded that lizard immediately and in tones that were not to be denied.

"I want him mother," he cried. "I want that pretty green thing."

The waiter, foreshadowing a tip, took compassion. For five minutes he chased the lizard with a broom and finally brushed it to the floor. The waiter picked it up and gave it to the boy, whose years must number either four or five. The boy held the slippery green thing in his hands for a time, petting it. Suddenly there was a squirm and the lizard darted up the boy's sleeve.

The excitement was immediate and most pronounced. Mother went after that lizard with a vengeance. First she tried to reach up the boy's sleeve. Then she unbuttoned his blouse and reached down. Still no lizard.

"It is not there," she cried finally.

"Well!" exclaimed the boy, a troubled expression coming over his face. In another moment (the eyes of all the piazza being upon him in the meantime), he grabbed his right shoulder and cried:

"I think it's here!"

A second later he changed his grab to the left side of his chest and declared that the lizard certainly was there.

The mother carefully searched both places but there was no lizard.

"I think," said the boy, a little later, "I think he's gone down in my trousers."

"Well," said the mother, "if he's gone there he's got to stay until I get you up stairs."

And he did stay until the party had finished their drinks.

There was evidence that the lizard was eventually recovered in the seclusion of the lad's room, for he exhibited him in the afternoon, carefully tied to a string to prevent other explorations.

As one of the women on the piazza quoted Oliver Herford:

"One touch of nature makes the whole world squirm."—Palm Beach News.

Full of Tragic Meaning.

are these lines from J. H. Simmons, of Casey, Ia. Think what might have resulted from this terrible cough if he had not taken the medicine about which he writes: "I had a fearful cough, that disturbed my night's rest. I tried everything, but nothing would relieve it, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which completely cured me." Instantly relieves and permanently cures all throat and lung diseases; prevents grip and pneumonia. At all druggists; guaranteed; 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

ICE CREAM IN INDIVIDUAL FORMS AT SOLOMON'S.

DUESSELDORFER

THE most powerful menace to the peace and happiness of this nation is the Distillery. And the only logical antidote is the Brewery. Beer drinkers are never drunkards; two-thirds of the whiskey drinkers are. What a sermon for a temperance orator, who is not too narrow or too hide-bound to look beneath the surface of the question. There is LIFE and DRINK and FOOD in a glass of Duesseldorfer Beer, but there is no scientist, however keen, who can detect therein one little quality that can work one iota of woe. Duesseldorfer is the ideal beer for home, club, cafe, hotel and public drinking places—the World's Standard of Perfection.
